Police union calls for more police to be hired

By John Lynds

In a letter to the Boston Police Department and Mayor Michelle Wu, the Boston Police Patrolmen's Association (BPPA) said the BPD can barely cover regular shift work—nevermind police details for construction projects and special events in the area.

The union said understaffing could have dire consequences as patrolmen are being forced to work mandatory overtime.

"The Boston Police Patrolmen's Association condemns the Boston Police Department for ordering officers to work 24 hours in a row this past Saturday," said the union in the letter. "It is unsafe for officers to be forced to work for 24 hours straight, and demonstrates the gross understaffing in the Police Department."

In the letter the BPPA called upon the City to immediately take actions to increase the number of sworn members of the BPD to levels that will allow for safe staffing.

"On Saturday, due partially to the City's "block party in Jamaica Plain, coupled with the Red Sox game and a festival in the Seaport, the BPD had over 120 officers working on an overtime basis," said the letter. "The vast majority of the officers working overtime were ordered to do so (meaning it was involuntary), and the majority were ordered for at least 16 hours, which is physically and psychologically draining. However, a number of officers were actually ordered to work three shifts in a row-or 24 hours straight."

The BPPA reported at least five officers were also ordered to work 24 hours back on Saturday June 25.

"This is simply unsafe and cannot be allowed to occur," the letter continued. "Officers simply cannot work for that many hours and still be expected to make split second decisions in life threatening situations. While many have called for a reduction in the BPD's Overtime budget, this crisis demonstrates why the City spends so much on overtime—there simply aren't enough officers working for the BPD."

The BPPA said given the crisis staffing levels at the BPD, it is irresponsible of the City to permit multiple events on the same day, which leads to resources being

Rep. Ryan getting to the bottom of Clougherty Pool issue

By John Lynds

The beleaguered BCYF Clougherty Pool on Bunker Hill Street just got a boost in the state budget this week as Rep. Dan Ryan was able to secure $2 million in the House's Economic Development bill to begin addressing the pool's maintenance issues.

While Rep. Ryan said the $2 million will not be enough for a complete overhaul of the pool; it can begin addressing some of the pool's issues to have it up and running by next summer.

"The $2 Million secured through the Economic Development package demonstrates my commitment to saving this community treasure," said Ryan. "Senator DiDomenico and I will continue to work with Mayor Wu's office, Councilor Coletta and our at Large Councilors to identify what is needed and to find the resources to get this pool open for 2023 and beyond."

Ever since the city decided last month to close the BCYF Clougherty Pool on Bunker Hill Street for the summer due to maintenance issues Charlestown residents have not been happy.

The last minute closure right before the summer was about to go into full swing left many frustrated that the city did not address the pool's maintenance issues earlier.

In response, the Friends of the Clougherty Pool hosted a community meeting last Wednesday.

City Councilor Coletta secures budget amendment earmarks for District 1

By John Lynds

District 1 City Councilor Gabriela Coletta was able to secure several budget amendments during her first budget session since being elected.

In the City's Fiscal Year 2023 Budget Coletta was able to secure funding for additional staff capacity to help expand District 1's Tree Canopy.

For a couple of years now groups like Speak for Trees have been working with the city on the neighborhood grassroots effort to get more trees planted. There's a lot of benefits trees have, unfortunately parts of District 1 suffer from the lowest tree canopy in the city. The tree canopy in some parts of the District is as low as 7% while the city average is 27%.

Coletta also earmarked funding for Immigrants Lead Boston: A program for Boston immigrants who wish to become civic leaders in their communities.

She also secured funding for more positions for 311, the city's resident hotline, to provide constituents with better service.

"I am proud of the fact that we advocated together," said

REVERE BEACH SAND SCULPTING FESTIVAL IS THIS WEEKEND

One of the premier events (if not THE premier event) of the summer season in the Metropolitan Boston area will take place this coming weekend with the 18th annual Revere Beach International Sand Sculpting Festival from July 22-24.

The theme for this year's festival is "Wonders of the World" and will feature an event centerpiece depicting the world's most famous landmarks.

As always, the festival will be highlighted by a competition among 15 master sand sculptors from across the country and the world -- this year's competitors will come from as far away as Poland, Belgium, the Netherlands, Japan, and Hawaii -- who will vie for the 2022 title and prizes. There are awards both from a panel of judges and the peoples' choice, who will choose from a dazzling display of artistic creations that truly will amaze and transcend what one might think of as being possible with sand and water.

All three days will feature live musical entertainment, food trucks, specialty food vendors (as well as Revere's Beach's own iconic establishments!), exhibitors, and amusement rides that will provide fun for the entire family starting at 10:00 a.m. each day.

A spectacular fireworks display will be the climactic event of Saturday evening's festivities at 9:00 p.m.

It is estimated that with the good weather that is being predicted for the weekend (as we are writing this, sunny and hot is the forecast for all three days), up to one million visitors will journey to Revere Beach to partake of this truly unique event.

Needless to say, the best means for getting to the festival will be via the MBTA. The Blue Line will bring festival-goers to the Revere Beach and Wonderland stops, which are just a short walk (literally a few minutes) to the sands of Revere Beach itself. In addition, free parking and shuttle service to the T will be available at Suffolk Downs.

As always, the Sand Sculpting Festival, which is spearheaded by the Revere Beach Partnership in cooperation with the City of Revere and the DCR, is free-of-charge.

We urge all of our readers to make the trek to Revere Beach, our nation's first public beach, this weekend with their friends and family to partake in the fun of this unique event that will create memories that will last a lifetime.

Few answers coming out of second meeting on Clougherty Pool

By Friends of the Clougherty Pool

As we brace for the upcoming head wave, which Mayor Wu has declared a heat emergency, the Charlestown community is missing its outdoor Clougherty Pool.

Last week's community meeting about the sudden closure of the Clougherty Pool drew a strong turnout, but provided few answers to the more than 150 residents who attended and joined online.

On July 13, residents and government officials gathered again at the Knights of Columbus to discuss the status of the community pool. Government officials in attendance included: State Representative Dan Ryan, District 1 City Councilor Gabriela Coletta, City at Large Councilors Ruthzee Louijeune, Julia Mejia, Erin Murphy, staff from Senator Sal DiDomenico's office and BCYF Commissioner Marta Rivera. NBC 10 also reported on the event in the evening news.

Commissioner Rivera provided an overview of the most recent engineer's report on the pool, which concluded the repairs needed to safely open may not be possible within the 2022 summer season. Residents pressed for an explanation on why BCYF allowed the pool to fall into disrepair in the first place, and demanded the Commissioner go on the record with her intent to reopen the pool in 2023.

Commissioner Rivera did not make a commitment to reopen the Clougherty, rather she said that BCYF was committed to understanding what was wrong with the pool and understanding its options, including commissioning another structural engineer's report. Commissioner Rivera also provided information on pool upkeep, acknowledging the last time the pool was overhauled was 1988 and that the 20-year filtration system installed that same year had long-since expired.

Several residents, including Tom Cunha, requested more specifics on precisely what was wrong with the pool. Many residents expressed frustration that BCYF did not properly maintain the pool, nor draw down the designated funding first secured by former Councilor Sal LaMattina for the 2013-17 city capital budget.

Another resident and former BCYF employee Leslie Parker-Sproul questioned whether the Commissioner or the BCYF staff were being forthcoming about the safety issues and lack of response, citing a meeting that she participated in in 2013 when the BCYF staff admitted to the need to repair the pool to ensure public safety. She claimed the needed repairs, which were well-known to the staff, were never done, and that BCYF was well aware of the safety risks while they continued to operate the pool until 2021.

"The city dropped the ball. Repairs were supposed to be done. They haven't been done. We want answers, we want accountability," said Naomi Hastings who also pressed public officials for accommodations like shuttles and specific hours when Charlestown residents could use the Mirabella pool in the North End. While officials at the meeting initially suggested this would be possible, Naomi has

Tick Talk

By Marianne Dalton, RN

Today, we are going to talk about ticks: where they breed, what can be done to reduce the risk of harboring ticks on your property, tick-borne illnesses, personal protection for you and your pets against ticks, and how to properly remove a tick.

Ticks are tiny pests that live in dark, thick vegetation, wooded areas, or places where the grass is not mowed. They latch onto people, pets and even clothing, and often evade detection due to their minuscule size.

To maximize a tick-unfriendly environment in your backyard, the following are suggested:

- Keep your lawn mowed, with no more than 2 inches of growth.
- Don't place playsets/picnic tables closer than 3 feet from wooded areas. Create a 3-foot buffer zone between picnic table and play areas, consisting of gravel, mulch, and wood chips.

- Keep leaves raked and do regular weeding around trees and shrubs.

- Trim plants, shrubs, and bushes to allow more sunlight into the depths of the plant. Ticks don't like dry, sunny areas.

- Make your yard tick-host hostile: ensure that mice and rodents do not have woodpiles or stone walls where they can set up housekeeping. Ticks love to attach to rodents.

- Move any bird feeders or bird baths as far from the house as possible. Birds are lovely to look at, but immature ticks hitch rides on them. Use binoculars to watch the birds from afar.

For more information, follow the links below:

(https://www.mass.gov/ser-

vice-details/tick-management-around-the-home)

(https://www.cdc.gov/ticks/avoid/in_the_yard.html).

I won't attempt an exhaustive list of all the tick-borne illnesses. However, the black-legged (deer) tick carries Lyme disease. All the tick-borne illnesses have common symptoms: fever, headache, fatigue, muscle aches. Since all those symptoms can be linked to any number of ailments, it is best to see your healthcare provider. He or she can evaluate if the symptoms are tick related.

(<https://www.mass.gov/ser-vice-details/diseases-spread-by-ticks>).

How should one prepare to go outside during tick season? It's not welcome news to hear "wear long sleeves and long pants" during ing to a poll commissioned by the Coalition for a resilient and inclusive waterfront.

She added, "Thank you to all of my colleagues for their work and their advocacy during this process in reviewing the operating budget. spread thin and unsafe mandatory ordering BPPA President Lawrence Calderone urged the hiring of more officers. "The BPPA has been calling on the City to hire more cops for years. The chronic understaffing of the BPD is now resulting in the unsafe situation of officers being ordered to work 24 hours straight. This is utterly unacceptable; the City is gambling with the safety of our community and our members by these reckless staffing decisions. We demand that the department cease unsafe staffing and hire more officers!"

summer weather. However, there are precautions (and compromises) one can make when venturing forth into the great outdoors:

- Wear light-colored clothing, on which ticks are more visible.
- Wear long-sleeved shirts and pants, with white socks pulled up over the pants bottoms (bad for fashionistas, good for tick avoidance).
- Treat clothing with the chemical permethrin (EPA approved for tick repellent, on clothing only).
- For any repellent, always read product labels before applying, to ensure proper use and effectiveness.

When returning from your outside excursion, check your body for ticks. Check children and pets as well. Ticks gravitate to areas of the body that are warm and dark, such as in or around hair, belly buttons, ears, underarms, groins, waists, etc. Talk to your vet about tick prevention products for your pet.

(<https://www.cdc.gov/ticks/avoid/index.html>).

If you follow all the above instructions, and you find a tick with its jaws attached to your flesh anyway, don't panic. There are a few things to remember when removing a tick.

Don't coat it with petroleum jelly or touch a recently blown-out match head to its body. Ticks have delicate nervous systems, and when stressed by suffocation from Vaseline or barbecue by match-head, the critters react by regurgitating their saliva into your bloodstream. This is in effect the tick vaccinating you with any number of tick-borne diseases. This is to be avoided.

The correct way to remove a tick, from either yourself, a child, or your pet:

- Get clean tweezers.
- Grab hold of the tick as close to the skin as possible.
- Pull straight up, slowly, and steadily. Twisting will behead the tick with his jaws still under your skin.
- After removal, wash the area with alcohol, iodine or soap and water. (<https://www.mass.gov/service-details/personal-protection-against-ticks>).

You are now equipped with all you need to know for a safe, tick-free rest of the summer!

Charlestown's weekly COVID positive test-rate increases

By John Lynds

Charlestown weekly positive test rate continues to rise as the highly infectious BA.5 omicron sub variant grips the nation.

Last week, the Biden administration renewed the COVID public-health emergency through mid-October as the city, state, and nation are in the midst of the U.S.'s second-largest surge since the pandemic began in 2020. On the heels of the public-health emergency extension, the CDC said COVID hospital admissions would increase more than four-fold by August 5.

According to the latest data by the Boston Public Health Commission (BPHC) Charlestown's weekly COVID infection rate has been steadily increasing for over a month.

Last week, 289 Charlestown residents were tested for the virus last week and 12.1 percent were positive--this was a 16 percent increase from the 10.4 percent that tested positive between July 4 and July 11.

Thirty-five additional Charlestown residents contracted the virus between July 11 and July 18 and there have now been 4,537 confirmed cases in the neighborhood since the start of the pandemic.

Boston's citywide weekly positive test rate also increased last week.

According to the BPHC, 11,189 Boston residents tested citywide and 9.8 percent were positive—a 21 percent increase from the 8.1 percent that tested positive between July 4 and July 11.

Adult COVID-19 Hospitalizations in Boston are now averaging 141.7 per day. This metric helps the BPHC understand the burden of serious COVID-19 cases among adults resulting in inpatient care in Boston hospitals. It includes the total number of adult hospitalizations among Boston and non-Boston residents for COVID-19.

The statistics released by the BPHC as part of its weekly COVID19 report breaks down the number of cases and infection rates in each neighborhood. It also breaks down the number of cases by age, gender and race.

Citywide positive cases of coronavirus increased 0.6 percent last week and went from 195,825 to 196,932 confirmed cases since the start of the pandemic.

There were two additional deaths in Boston from the virus in the past week and the total number of COVID deaths is now at 1,495.

House passes $4.2 billion Economic Development Bill

By John Lynds

This week, Rep. Dan Ryan and his colleagues in the House passed a $4.2 billion Economic Development Bill that will make significant investments in Charlestown and across the state.

The bill utilizes American Rescue Plan Act (ARPA), Fiscal Year 2022 (FY22) surplus funds, and bonds to make significant investments across several vital sectors of the economy, and to give back to low and middle-income residents in Massachusetts by providing one-time rebates and significant tax relief beginning in 2023.

Ryan and the legislation addresses disparities exacerbated by the COVID-19 pandemic in the bill through one-time investments in health and human services, the environment and climate mitigation, economic development, housing, and food insecurity.

"I want to thank Chair Michelwitz, Speaker Mariano and my colleagues in the House for passing an Economic Development package that puts resources back into our cities and towns and into the hands of taxpayers as we continue to steer through these tough times," said Ryan. "I was also able to allocate some specific funds for local programs that have experienced some unprecedented set-backs due to circumstances not of their doing."

Important Charlestown provisions include providing 250,000 for Courageous Sailing Center in the Charlestown; $2 million for the Clougherty Pool and Doherty Park in Charlestown section; $1 million for Roca, Inc. to provide and administer a Transitional Employment (TEP) and other job placement programs for the highest-risk, court involved young people and adults in the commonwealth; and $500,000 for Year Up to implement workforce development programs that provide job opportunities for young adults.

"As Massachusetts residents continue to face severe inflation and economic uncertainty, I'm proud of the action taken by the House today that will provide low and middle-class taxpayers with much needed financial relief," said House Speaker Ronald Mariano (D-Quincy).

"Included in this legislation are several significant tax relief proposals, over $2.5 billion worth of one-time industry targeted investments, economic relief rebates for qualifying taxpayers, and a newly established source of revenue to fund the state's early education and care system. These are vital forms of real, tangible economic relief. I want to thank Chairs Michlewitz, Cusack, Parisella, Gregoire, and Hunt, as well as all my colleagues in the House, for the hard work required to put this ever-important economic development package together."

Councilor Coletta announces "Summer of Service"

By John Lynds

Last week, District 1 Boston City Councilor Gabriela Coletta announced her "Summer of Service," initiative that prioritizes beautifying Charlestown and the rest of District 1.

Coletta said the new initiative encourages residents to get involved in their own neighborhood through community service and civic engagement.

"I am so grateful to have been raised in a household that valued and prioritized community service," said Councilor Coletta. "As City Councilor, I am excited to create opportunities for folks to beautify District One and help us in our mission of creating and maintaining vibrant communities."

The Summer of Service will include initiatives such as Neighborhood Trash Pickups, to get trash off our streets and keep our neighborhoods clean.

Participants will also work on graffiti removal and coordination with Graffiti Busters to help and assist with districtwide backlog.

Volunteers will also be encouraged to help at food distribution sites at Harvest on Vine food pantry in Charlestown and the East Boston Community Soup Kitchen and .

Those wanting to be involved can also work on collecting non-traditional item donations and deliver them to seniors across Charlestown and the District in partnership with local based community organizations. Items may include toiletries, socks, shoes, reusable bags, etc.

Residents are also encouraged to participate in shoreline cleanup partnering with local environmental justice organizations to clear out trash from neighborhood green spaces.

Residents can also assist at Councilor Coletta's Coffee Hours to create a space in the community to discuss fresh ideas and share resources to various departments within City Hall.

There will also be opportunities for tree and flower planting during the fall months.

"To join us for a local event, please visit gigi4district1.us/summerofservice," said Coletta.

For additional information about the Summer of Service initiative including how to sponsor, please contact the Office of Councilor Gabriela Coletta by phone at (617) 635-3200 or by email at elvira.mora2@boston.gov.

Hastings also pressed public officials for accommodations like shuttles and specific hours when Charlestown residents could use the Mirabella pool in the North End. While officials at the meeting initially suggested this would be possible, Naomi has received no further response from the officials.

Others, including Moe Gillen, spoke about generations of residents using the pool, as one resident stated, "We are not a rich community, we depend on this pool in the summer." Residents stated Charlestown is home to the largest public housing development in New England and that the city's decisions have created greater inequities and limited access to critical outdoor space.

A large number of residents turned out for last weeks community meeting.

MGC releases June 2022 Gross Gaming Revenue

The Massachusetts Gaming Commission reported that the month of June 2022 at Plainridge Park Casino (PPC), MGM Springfield and Encore Boston Harbor generated approximately $93 million in Gross Gaming Revenue (GGR).

PPC, a category 2 slots facility, is taxed on 49% of GGR. Of that total taxed amount, 82% is paid to Local Aid and 18% is allotted to the Race Horse Development Fund. MGM Springfield and Encore Boston Harbor, category 1 resort-casinos, are taxed on 25% of GGR; those monies are allocated to several specific state funds as determined by the gaming statute.

To date, the Commonwealth has collected approximately $1.127 billion in total taxes and assessments from PPC, MGM and Encore since the respective openings of each gaming facility.

CHARLESTOWN ARTIST, JOE CARUSO, TO EXHIBIT AT HALLSPACE GALLERY, DORCHESTER

Charlestown Artist, Joe Caruso, has a solo show, Makers and Shakers, at HallSpace Gallery, 950 Dorchester Avenue, Dorchester MA, now to August 20.

Caruso is a mixed media artist who draws inspiration from ancient cultures and contemporary issues. Makers and Shakers will include work in three different areas: painting, found object sculpture and ceramics.

The Gallery is open Fridays and Saturdays 12-5. The public is cordially welcome.

Joe Caruso is an interdisciplinary artist who lives and works in Boston, MA.

His art draws inspiration from ancient cultures and from contemporary life. His work explores issues of discovery, spirituality, time and transformation as well as equality and self-determination. Although he works primarily in the areas of painting, found-object sculpture and ceramics, he strives to integrate other art forms such as poetry, music, dance and media into his work.

Some of Artist Joe Caruso's work on display at HallSpace Gallery, in Dorchester, now through August 20.

Joe has exhibited at galleries and venues throughout Massachusetts, including Galatea Fine Art, 555 Gallery, Spoke, Laconia and FPAC galleries in Boston, as well as Western New England University Art Gallery (Springfield) and the Davis Gallery (Worcester). In addition, he has shown his work at the Museum of Art, University of New Hampshire, members' shows at the Provincetown Art Association and Museum, the Boston International Fine Art Show (555 Gallery), the Boston Convention and Exhibit Center, Boston City Hall and New England's Area Code Art Fair. In May of 2024, Joe will serve as curator of an exhibition at the Art Complex Museum in Duxbury, MA.

Joe's art education comes from self-exploration as well as coursework with various artists. A former educator, Joe holds a BS degree from Boston University and MA and Doctor of Education degrees from Columbia University. He is a published author, a gardener and an Argentine tango dancer. Joe is a member of the Fort Point Artist Community and the Cambridge Art Association. He is also a founding member of the Artist Group of Charlestown and Stove Factory Gallery and Studios and was appointed by the Mayor of Boston to serve as Charlestown co-chair for Boston Creates, a long-range planning process to develop a blueprint for Arts and Culture in the City of Boston.

received no further response from the officials.

Others, including Moe Gillen, spoke about generations of residents using the pool, as one resident stated, "We are not a rich community, we depend on this pool in the summer." Repeatedly residents stated Charlestown is home to the largest public housing development in New England and that the city's decisions have created greater inequities and limited access to critical outdoor space.

Several residents noted Charlestown has the least amount of green space in the city, and yet is experiencing increasing levels of commercial and residential development, along with major road construction – increasing the pressure and stress on the neighborhood.

One resident stated, "Why has Charlestown been left behind? You look at the North End and East Boston and our pool and parks are neglected." Residents reiterated that the BCYF-suggested alternatives of sending our kids and seniors over to the North End's Mirabella pool was unreasonable, having to cross four highways, including the temporary North Washington Street bridge and potentially not being allowed in due to Mirabella pool capacity limits.

Representatives from Friends of Clougherty Pool, Friends of the Doherty Park, and the Charlestown Mother's Association voiced support for the outdoor pool reopening. Residents pressed the elected officials for a statement of support to repair the pool and ensure long-term safety and maintenance issues would be addressed.

City Councilor Coletta stated she would work with Mayor Wu and Commissioner Rivera to support the repair and opening of the pool. At Large City Councilor Murphy voiced her support to reopen the pool along with additional findings from her research around the $2.7 million that had been designated for the pool repairs nearly a decade ago, but had not been drawn down by BCYF. At Large Councilors Mejia and Louijeune both spoke at length on their commitment to Charlestown, their empathy with the community's struggle, and their desire to come together. State Representative Dan Ryan encouraged residents to continue to voice their concern.

Pressed again for a commitment, BCYF Commissioner Rivera did not commit to reopening the pool.

Following the meeting the Friends of the Clougherty Pool emailed Mayor Wu and her administration, the City Council, the City Auditor, and State Legislators, stating: "With over 1,770 signatures on our change.org petition and hundreds of residents who have attended rallies and community meetings, the Charlestown community has spoken with one voice: we demand the repair of the Clougherty Pool so that it will open for the 2023 Season, as well as repairs and updates to the pool so that it can continue to a long-term resource for the community."

The group made a series of requests, including:

A request that BCYF Commissioner Rivera provide a report to the community by Wednesday, August 3 on the following:

1) Due date for the finished assessment of the pool's problems and options for repair and cost analysis

2) The schedule the Commissioner is going to direct to trigger all the steps needed to begin work from project prioritization based upon the assessment, to issuing bids to contractors for the work, contractor selection, issuing work orders, and work to commence.

3) An explanation of the dollar authority she has to order work on the pool right now, without a further act of the City Council or Mayor Wu providing additional dollars from somewhere else in the City budget.

The Friends of the Clougherty Pool also requested that the City Council schedule an on-the-record hearing in August or early September of the Government Accountability, Transparency, and Accessibility Committee of the Council to hear testimony from BCYF Commissioner Rivera and City Auditor Maureen Joyce on:

1) Commissioner Rivera: The status of the timetable to fix the pool and what exactly is being done with the money allocated and what further budget needs are there to complete pool repairs.

2) City Auditor Joyce: Report on the exact trail of city funds designated for the Clougherty Pool, the status of those funds, what's restricted, what are the general ledger codes being assigned to track pool designated funds, a delineation of capital and operating expenses for the pool, and other questions about money, including the relevant agreement with the George Robert White Fund.

Finally, the group announced its next community meeting for Tuesday, September 13 – 6pm at the Knights of Columbus at 545 Medford Street, Charlestown. All government officials have been invited and residents are encouraged to stay engaged and show their support for the pool.

For now, the group urges residents to stay safe during this heat wave: "Stay safe, take it easy and take care of your family and neighbors."

Two statewide candidates are certified to receive public campaign funds

Two candidates for statewide office have qualified for matching public funds for their primary election campaigns.

Democrats Tami Gouveia for lieutenant governor and Quentin Palfrey for attorney general submitted the necessary qualifying contributions and were certified by the Office of Campaign and Political Finance to receive funding in the following amounts:

- Tami Gouveia: $143,994
- Quentin Palfrey: $165,412

Under the public financing law, M.G.L. Chapter 55C, a statewide candidate who is opposed, has agreed to observe a statutory spending limit and submits the minimum amount of qualifying contributions is eligible to receive public matching funds. Gouveia and Palfrey may submit additional contributions to receive matching funds for the primary.

The State Election Campaign Fund contained $1,002,490 as of June 30, according to the state Comptroller's Office. That amount was split in half - $501,245 is available for the Sept. 6 primary election and the same amount for the November 8 general election. The law calls for candidates for governor to be funded first, with any remaining funds to be distributed to candidates for the other five statewide offices who are eligible to receive public financing. Because no gubernatorial candidates were certified to receive funding, funds were made available to Gouveia and Palfrey.

In order to be certified as eligible to receive public funds, a participating candidate must submit a minimum amount of qualifying contributions from individuals (only the first $250 of an individual's contribution is considered as a qualifying contribution). The minimum amount for lieutenant governor is $15,000, and the threshold for attorney general is $37,500.

After the primary, all remaining candidates who have not agreed to limit spending and who are opposed in the general election by candidates who have agreed to limit spending will have to declare their self-imposed limit by September 9 for the final general election campaign (September 7 through November 8). Unenrolled candidates must file statements by August 30 declaring whether they will participate in the public financing program.

Public financing for campaigns has been in place for every statewide election since 1978. The sole source of funding for public financing in Massachusetts is the State Election Campaign Fund, which allows taxpayers to direct $1 from their tax liability on their annual income tax returns to the fund.

MBTA issues update on safety work progress

The MBTA reported on its progress to address ongoing safety concerns raised during a Federal Transit Administration (FTA) Safety Management Inspection (SMI) last month. Over the last several weeks, the MBTA has implemented safety plans to address track conditions and maintenance, updated safety trainings and directives, and has addressed staffing shortages.

"Following the FTA's initial safety review, the MBTA was asked to implement changes to the system to improve the way it is run and operated," said MBTA General Manager Steve Poftak. "I am pleased that the MBTA has completed many of those updates and continues to make progress on many more. These recommendations will make the T safer and more reliable for both our riders and our employees. Over the coming weeks, we will continue to work closely with these safety experts to improve the MBTA system."

The MBTA has met all the FTA's deadlines and requirements to date in response to the four special directives issued and continues to develop Corrective Action Plans (CAPs) to address them. As part of these CAPs, the MBTA has taken the following actions to date:

- Issued a new series of safety directives, trainings, and policies for operators regarding train movements in the MBTA's yard facilities and car houses.
- Ensured all active rail transit employees are certified (completed in June). The MBTA is developing an improved internal tracking system and policies for ensuring recertifications are up to date.
- Prioritized track projects that address track conditions in need of most repair and that currently have substantial speed restrictions. This work is being coordinated with current construction activities already underway and service diversions already scheduled to take place to improve rider experience. For example, on Sunday, July 10, the MBTA's Track Department installed approximately 500' of rail on the southbound tracks between Back Bay and Massachusetts Avenue stations. This rail is a specific kind of rail that is used in sharper curves. This track replacement work allowed the T to lift a speed restriction that was approximately 1500' long from 10 mph to 25 mph, speeding up trips by about one minute. When all track work is completed in this area, the speed will be able to be increased to 40 mph.
- Updating procedures for accessing track areas to safely increase the time crews have to perform work on the tracks during the overnight hours when subway service does not operate in order to make the Orange line, Blue line, Green line, and Red line safer.
- Launched an aggressive hiring campaign to attract qualified candidates as drivers, dispatchers, and inspectors to improve safety and rider experiences, and updated work rules to allow for more manageable shifts and necessary rest time. Newly hired dispatchers will soon begin a rigorous 10-week training program prior to being assigned to the Operations Control Center (OCC) in the coming months. The T has rehired three former dispatchers (who are currently supervisory employees) to temporarily work in the OCC.

The MBTA also has several ongoing initiatives underway as part of these CAPs, including:

- Exploring ways to accelerate the maintenance of its existing rail construction equipment.
- Developing a PPE compliance checking program.
- Increasing staffing at rail yards.
- Developing a pilot program for Blue Flag procedures on rapid transit. A codified standard in railroad operations, Blue Flag procedures are clearly distinguishable blue flags/lights by day and blue lights by night that indicate workers are on, under, or between rolling cars or equipment. The purpose of the Blue Flag procedure is to protect workers from the movement of rolling equipment.

The four special directives received by the MBTA involve delayed critical maintenance, train movement operating procedures, staffing within the OCC, and the employee safety recertification process. The CAP to address delayed critical maintenance is due to the FTA on July 15. The CAP to address train movement operating procedures was submitted on time to the FTA on June 30. The CAP to address staffing issues within the Operations Control Center was submitted on time to the FTA on July 5. The CAP regarding employee safety re-certifications is due to the FTA on July 20.

Wu declares heat emergency, opens 12 BCYF cooling centers to all residents

Mayor Michelle Wu declared a heat emergency in the City of Boston beginning Tuesday, July 19 through Thursday, July 21 due to the weather that is forecasted for this time period. Temperatures are expected to be in the mid to high 90s.

“We’re working quickly to make sure all of our Boston residents and families are protected during this week’s extreme weather,” said Mayor Michelle Wu. “It is clear that a changing climate is a risk to our health and communities. I urge everyone to stay cool and safe, and check on your neighbors during the week. I’m thankful for the many City employees who are preparing for this emergency and will be responding to calls for service throughout our neighborhoods.”

To help residents stay cool, cooling centers will be open at 12 Boston Centers for Youth & Families (BCYF) community centers Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. A full list of centers can be found at boston.gov/heat. Due to the rising COVID-19 case count, the use of masks in cooling centers is strongly recommended. Additionally, more than 50 splash pads will be open at parks and playgrounds throughout the City. Select indoor BCYF pools are open and the outdoor BCYF Mirabella Pool is open Wednesday through Sunday. Registration for a time to swim can be found at this link.

The City of Boston is taking critical immediate action to provide heat relief, including short-term, actionable steps toward relief during heat waves. The City of Boston has been engaging in a variety of catalytic projects to support extreme heat mitigation and improved health for residents. This includes the distribution of pop-up cooling kits with a hose, misters, and a tent to community organizations that have public events this summer. The cooling kits will be distributed over the coming weeks.

The Boston Public Schools is encouraging students and their families to prepare for hot weather this week by staying well hydrated and dressing appropriately. Families are welcome to send their children to their respective summer programs, which will provide students with water and meals. Additionally, the majority of summer sites are equipped with air conditioning and fans will be delivered to sites in need of cooling.

Information on heat safety tips can be found online at boston.gov/heat and by following @Cityof-Boston on Twitter. Residents can sign up for AlertBoston, the City’s emergency notification system, to receive emergency alerts by phone, email or text. Sign up online here. Residents are also encouraged to call 311 with any questions about available City services.

The Mayor issued the following heat safety tips for all members of the public:

Children and pets should never be left alone in vehicles, even for short periods of time.

Stay hydrated. Drink plenty of fluids regardless of activity level. Avoid alcoholic beverages and liquids high in sugar or caffeine.

Keep cool with frequent cool showers, shade, and air conditioning or fans.

Limit outdoor activity to morning and evening hours. Rest often in shady areas and be extra cautious from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., when the sun’s ultraviolet (UV) radiation is strongest.

Know the signs of heat exhaustion. Heavy sweating, cool and clammy skin, dizziness, nausea, and muscle aches could all be signs of heat exhaustion. If symptoms persist, call 911 immediately. Do not delay care. Heat is the leading cause of weather-related deaths in the U.S. and can exacerbate underlying illnesses.

Adults and children should use sunscreen containing an SPF-30 or higher and wear protective, loose-fitting clothing including long sleeve shirts and hats.

If you have a child in your home, use child window guards in addition to screens on any open window on the second story or above. Falls are the leading cause of injury for children under the age of six.

Secure all window air conditioner units according to the manufacturer’s specifications.

If you are heading to a beach, lake, or pool to beat the heat, swim where lifeguards are present. Always watch children near the water and make sure they’re wearing a U.S. Coast Guard approved life jacket.

Please call or check on neighbors, especially older adults and people with disabilities.

Please keep pets indoors, hydrated, and cool as asphalt and ground conditions are significantly hotter and unsafe during heat.

Helping Individuals Experiencing Homelessness:

If you see individuals out in the heat who appear immobile or disoriented, please ask them if they need assistance and call 911 immediately.

The Boston Public Health Commission (BPHC) operates emergency shelters at 112 Southampton St. and 794 Massachusetts Ave. These facilities are air conditioned and open 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Amnesty has been called because of extremely high temperatures so those with non-violent restrictions can access shelter out of the heat.

The City of Boston works closely with a network of shelter providers to ensure there is adequate shelter, food, water, and a cool respite from the heat.

recovery services remain operating as normal during summertime weather.

The Engagement Center will be open to provide a cooling space.

Playground Safety:

Shoes should be worn outdoors, including playgrounds and turf athletic fields, as surfaces can become extremely hot and cause burns, even on splash pads and spray decks.

Outdoor Fires and Grilling:

No outdoor fires are allowed in Boston, including fire pits, chimineas, and bonfires.

Charcoal grills must be on the ground and away from buildings. Keep in mind the wind and never leave grills unattended. Dispose of the ash in a metal container once completely out.

Propane tank grills are only allowed on first floor porches with steps to the ground. Do not place propane tank grills near air conditioners or up against a building. Make sure all connections are tight and never carry propane tanks into a home.

Grills should always be used in a well-ventilated area.

Mayor Wu recently announced Heat Resilience Solutions for Boston, a citywide framework to prepare Boston for hotter summers and more intense heat events. The Heat Plan presents 26 strategies that will help build a more just, equitable, and resilient Boston. To support the implementation of the Heat Plan, the City will launch the Boston Extreme Temperatures Response Task Force, which will help deliver a unified, all-of-government response to address chronic high temperature conditions and prepare the city in advance of extreme heat events. The Task Force’s work will be supported by the Environment Department, the Office of Emergency Management, and the Boston Public Health Commission’s Office of Public Health Preparedness with the goal of collaboratively protecting and promoting the health and wellbeing of Boston residents facing increasing temperatures and other climate risks.

Docket No. SU22P0643GD Suffolk Probate and Family Court 24 New Chardon Street Boston, MA 02114 (617) 788-8300

In the matter of: Terry Diguglielmo Of: Charlestown, MA RESPONDENT Alleged Incapacitated Person To the named Respondent and all other interested persons, a petition has been filed by Massachusetts General Hospital of Boston, MA in the above captioned matter alleging that Terry Diguglielmo is in need of a Guardian and requesting that (or some other suitable person) be appointed as Guardian to serve on the bond. The petition asks the court to determine that the Respondent is incapacitated, that the appointment of a Guardian is necessary, and that the proposed Guardian is appropriate. The petition is on file with this court and may contain a request for certain specific authority.

You have the right to object to this proceeding. If you wish to do so, you or your attorney must file a written appearance at this court on or before 10:00 A.M. on the return date of 07/22/2022. This day is NOT a hearing date, but a deadline date by which you have to file the written appearance if you object to the petition. If you fail the written appearance by the return date, action may be taken in this matter without further notice to you. In addition to filing the written appearance, you or your attorney must file a written affidavit stating the specific facts and grounds of your objection within 30 days after the return date. IMPORTANT NOTICE

The outcome of this proceeding may limit or completely take away the above-named person's right to make decisions about personal affairs or financial affairs or both. The above-named person has the right to ask for a lawyer. Anyone may make this request on behalf of the above-named person. If the above-named person cannot afford a lawyer, one may be appointed at State expense.

WITNESS, Hon. Brian J. Dunn, First Justice of this Court. Date: June 10, 2022 Felix D. Arroyo Register of Probate
